

S N A P !

Local paparazzo Peter Arnow takes you on a whirlwind romp around Key West

Marjorie Paul-Shook, Bobby Nesbitt, and Michael Mulligan enjoy Vera Schiff's Very Late Bruch on New Year's Day.

A large group of volunteers helped present the first Anne McKee Artist Fund Artists4Artists Retrospective Exhibit in the Studios of Key West.

Mike Emerson and his combo opened up the Sunday Night Jazz concerts at the Gardens Hotel.

Rich In Spirit McKay sings from his CD at the Anne McKee Artists Fund Artists 4 Artist Retrospective held at the Studios of Key West.

Steve Smith (left) with Matt Hon, ED of the Key West Business Guild. Smith received the Richard Heyman award from the Guild for his many years work with the Guild and the TDC.

Key West Business Guild President Alan Beaubian welcomes Florida State Representative Holly Raschein to the January luncheon.

Inge Marcial of Emeralds International joins the professional dancing cast of Nutcracker Key West representing the Jewels of the Atocha on stage with a display of beautiful emerald jewelry.

Noted hat designer, artist, and Anne McKee Artist Fund recipient, Judi Bradford, now designs from her third floor studio at the Studios of Key West.

Clare Carruthers-Fitzsimmons is proud of her stage debut role as the youngest chicken in Nutcracker Key West.

Contribution to Bryan Green, Monroe County Education Foundation President, and Chuck Licus, Take Stock in Children Program Coordinator, for the EIL Mildred Tynes Airfare Fund which is celebrating its 2nd anniversary.

The vivacious Vera Schiff flies back home to Key West each New Year's day to host her Very Late Brunch at the Tennessee Williams Theatre lobby.

Fantasy Fest King and La Te Da Proprietor Christopher Rounds thanks his many guests for attending the 40th anniversary party of his iconic Key West establishment.

Board of Staff members of the Florida Keys Council of the Arts are thankful for the great turnout at their annual Christmas Party at the home of Rob Sharpe.

Anne McKee's daughter, Marie Corbett, accepts flowers on behalf of her mother Anne McKee at the Arrists4Artists Retrospective Exhibit of the Anne McKee Artist Fund.

Tiffany Burton, Volunteer and Special Events Coordinator for the Florida Keys SPCA, at the ground breaking ceremony for the building on Stock Island.

Rabbits got their turn at the Annual SPCA PAWS Parade at Dog Park.

Mary Lou Hoover, organizer of the 2nd annual Out of the Darkness walk to raise funds for suicide prevention, reflects on those she has known and lost.